

csv,conf,v2

a community conference for data makers everywhere

Berlin, 3-4 May, 2016

Buy Tickets Online

A community conference for data makers everywhere, again!

Featuring some of the brightest minds in science,
journalism, government and open source.

With Keynotes From:

Jenny Bryan

Statistics professor at the University of British Columbia who takes a special delight in data analysis and computing.

Jeremy Freeman

Neuroscientist at HHMI Janelia. Open source, open science. Working on Binder, Lightning and more.

Sarah Gold

Designer interested in interaction, data and networks in the public domain, she is founder of the creative company IF.

Zara Rahman

Researcher, writer and information activist whose work focuses on bridging the gap between activists and technologists.

See website for full schedule

csvconf.com

Email the coordinators privately at csv-conf-coord@googlegroups.com or send a DM to @csvconference with any questions.